The town lies east of the Bapaume-Peronne road, and its capture, with adjacent territory, apparently clinches French possession of this main highway to Peronne.

Combles is now cut off from the south and is in a dangerous salient, while General Foch is in a favorable position for a stroke from the north at Peronne, which appears seriously threatened by the new French advance, one of the most important made in any single operation since the Somme offensive began.

The British, who hold the lines northwest of Combles, are maintaining a firm grip on Ginchy, but apparently have not attempted to gain further to the east, London reporting the situation unchanged today.

In Macedonia, the Entente offensive is developing along the western sector.

Athens announces a joint advance by French and Serbian troops, who have captured Sorovitz, near Florina; while Paris reports important progress, particularly considerable gains by the Serbs near Lake Orsova.

The German war office declares the operations against the Roumanians in southern Dobrudja province are proceeding methodically.

It also announces that German troops have been sent into Transylvania, where they are in contact with the advancing Roumanians.

Today's official French statement reports that Italian troops are actively engaged along the Macedonian front in the Balkans. They are operating west of the Struma near Bulkova.

Athens, Greece, September 13.—The belief is entertained in the Entente capitals that the retirement of the Zaimis ministry is preliminary to the entrance of Greece into the war with the Allies.

The precise causes which led to the resignation of the Ministry have not been disclosed, on account of an exceptionally rigid censorship.

It is believed in London that his resignation was due to the fact that he accepted the premiership on the understanding that he was to maintain neutrality, and, in view of the Bulgarian occupation of Greek territory had found this impossible.

DYE LOSES FIGHT FOR LICENSE

State Board Affirms County Board Decision—Principle Established.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, Ohio, September 13.—The big fight made before the State Liquor License Commission by C. L. Dye, Marietta liquor dealer, to prevent the loss of his license, which was revoked by the Washington county board because he was twice convicted for violating federal liquor laws, proved unavailing, the state commission this afternoon affirming the action of the county board.

The decision of the state commission is of considerable importance, because it establishes the principle that a license may be taken away under the present Greenlund state liquor license law if the holder of such a license is twice convicted of violating any regulatory liquor law, state or federal.

Dye was committed to the Ross county jail, at Chillicothe, for his violations against the federal law, and Federal Judge Sater is now investigating to determine if reports that the sheriff allowed Dye to take rides and live in luxury away from the jail when he was supposed to be incarcerated are well founded.

First Time During His Administration That the President Deals Personally With Representatives of the De Facto Government — Declares That the Regeneration of Mexico Must Come From Within.

New London, Conn., Sept. 13.—President Wilson exchanged calls with General Carranza's representatives, who with the American commissioners are seeking a permanent foundation of sympathy and understanding upon which may rest the future relations of Mexico and this country.

It was the first time during his administration that the president had dealt personally with a representative of the Mexican de facto government, and the significance of this fact was not lost upon either American or Mexican commissioners. For the first time also, representatives of General Carranza learned from the man in whose hands perhaps lies the fate of their country, his statement of sympathy with the acts of the revolution which has torn Mexico.

The regeneration of the stricken nation must come from within, Mr. Wilson said, and, in answer for his colleagues and himself, Luis Cabrera, Carranza's minister of finance and chairman of the Mexican delegation, asserted that his country was struggling toward the light of freedom and democratic government.

Mr. Wilson laid great stress on the point as to the present conference upon which both Secretary Lansing and Secretary Lane centered their remarks at the first meeting of the commission in New York—the protection of American lives and property in Mexico. The president said he hoped the commission would be successful in finding a solution for its problems which would insure the security of Americans, not only along the border, but in any part of Mexico.

The meeting was arranged when the president arrived here, summoned to the bedside of his stricken relative, Mrs. Annie E. Howe. Accompanied by three American delegates the Mexican party was taken to the Mayflower, the president's yacht. In a navy launch that had been placed at the services of the joint body.

The president went directly to the subject of the Mexican revolution. He was, he said, more familiar than his hearers realized with the fundamental principles of the struggle for free government in Mexico. He assured them of his deep sympathy with those aims, adding that right-thinking men all over the world must sympathize with such high aspirations.

During the conversation Mr. Wilson indicated his comprehension of the great problems, political, economic and social, which Mexico is facing. It was in this connection when he said that regeneration must come from within and that development must be parallel in all three lines.

FRANZ JOSEPH HAS BIRTHDAY

(Associated Press Cable.)

Vienna, Sept. 13.—Emperor Francis Joseph spent his third "war-birthday" — August 18 — in absolute retirement in his palace at Schoenbrunn, just outside Vienna. Only a special mass in the castle chapel, and a family dinner-party distinguished the day from any other in the monarch's ordinary life. For the rest it was spent as usual, in work from dawn until evening.

His eighty-sixth birthday found the Emperor in fairly good health, despite all rumors to the contrary. Statesmen who have seen him lately express astonishment at his mental and bodily vigor, but allowing for some courtier-like exaggeration it is generally believed that the sovereign's health is remarkably good considering his advanced age, and especially all the worries and burdens resulting from the war.

Rising at four the Emperor takes a very light breakfast of tea or chocolate and bread and butter and is at his desk by five. His barber comes three times a week though now he is enrolled in the Landsturm. It happens frequently that he cannot come at the proper time, having guard duty, but the Emperor has ordered that nothing is to interfere with his military duties. He arrives at the castle in uniform but puts on a dress coat before going to the Emperor.

At seven o'clock the first adjutant in waiting appears with reports and state papers, and any time after that hour audiences are granted to ministers and high military personages. Work goes on steadily all the day interrupted only by the briefest pauses for meals.

Naturally the customary rejoicings on the occasion of the Emperor's birthday throughout the country have been greatly curtailed by the war. In Vienna a high mass at the cathedral, attended by all prominent state and municipal personages, followed by a state dinner at the Cardinal Archbishop's and the firing of a salute at the arsenal are the chief items on the program. Usually great crowds flock to the Prater which was illuminated in the evening, but this year the population was in little mood for such festivities, and the crowds were far smaller than in other years.

Congress might appoint representatives to meet with representatives of other neutral congresses to act. The United States might act independently. Dr. Jordan said he was not at liberty to give out the details of the plans, as they would be handled by President Wilson himself.

Mrs. Eliza Kennen, From 310 W. Ninth Avenue, Columbus, Ohio, Made a Little Journey to Room No. 32.

Mrs. Kennen, an elderly lady, for a long period of time has been wanting her teeth extracted. Her past experience along this line has always been very disagreeable and she said that every time she had a tooth extracted it would throw her into a nervous chill and would be confined to her bed for several days. This time there was no chill and after having six ulcerated roots and teeth out, she said "Why, Doctor, this is just simply grand."

You must remember that Doctor Blankner gets the very worst cases in the country. Some when they come to him have suffered for years and they tell the story how day after day they have suffered with neuralgia, with their ulcerated teeth as well as pyorrhea. Every sensible person knows that with the extractions of the teeth, that all the inflammation in the nerves and jaws can't be extracted but it requires the element of time to adjust same. Occasionally, there will be a dry abscess formation which requires treatment and is very painful, sometimes for several days. Happily, however, these cases are few. Dr. Blankner often takes out rotten jaw bone which if he did not do would entail an operation on the jaw and thus saves many people from serious trouble. The same germs that rot the teeth will rot the jaw bone. There are many dangers involved in decayed teeth and the only way to avoid them when your teeth are past filling is to have them extracted. Do not think when you have a decayed tooth and it does not hurt or ache that it is not doing you harm for it is. Every decayed tooth is a cess pool of filth, emitting a very disagreeable odor. The filth passes into your stomach with every meal, destroying digestion and poisoning the blood. In many instances cancer of the stomach is due to decayed teeth irritating the tongue. Diphtheria, tonsillitis, pneumonia, tuberculosis, etc., may come from decayed teeth.

"As Maine Goes."

The election in Maine is over, and both Republicans and Democrats are, in a measure, surprised at the results—the former agreeably and the latter the reverse.

The eyes of the people of the entire nation have been focused on Maine. The campaign was one of the most spectacular and one of the hardest fought in the history of the state. Political leaders of both parties put every ounce of strength they possessed into the campaign. Republican leaders spent days in speaking to the voters and members of the president's cabinet made sweeping tours in the interest of the Democratic candidates.

While the slogan "As Maine goes so goes the nation" has not always been proven true by the results of the general election in November, this year it was conceded by both political parties that the result of the battle in the Pine Tree State would be a particularly forceful indication as to which way the political currents were running.

So far as campaign managers and speakers were concerned local issues were of secondary importance in the campaign. National issues were forced to the front and discussed in all political meetings almost to the entire exclusion of local issues and candidates.

The Democratic managers insisted that the fact that President Wilson had kept the nation out of war was the paramount issue, while the Republicans forced the tariff issue to the front in their discussions, urging that Maine was, of all states, more particularly concerned with the tariff problem and that it was largely dependent upon a protective tariff for its prosperity.

Those who regard the Maine elections as a reliable barometer can see in it nothing save Republican victory in the nation next November.

The great bulk of the progressive vote on Monday registered in the Republican column and that after all is the most significant of all the indications which the results "way down in Maine" contain.

It is the first positive evidence to be furnished as to where the great part of the big Roosevelt vote four years ago is going to be cast in the November elections.

A Big Reason Why

In his talk last Sunday night at the Presbyterian church Rev. Gage advanced some entirely new, original and forceful arguments in his support of the charter form of government for cities.

An entirely new argument in favor of adopting the later and more efficient form of government was that the new form made bad men good, while the old inefficient plan tended to make good men bad.

How true that is, and what a powerful appeal to all good citizens is to be found in that one short statement.

The aim of all good people should be to make people better and the point Rev. Gage seeks to drive home, to every citizen when he makes that statement is simply this—from a moral (a religious, if you please) standpoint the citizen owes it to himself, to his neighbor, to urge the adoption of a form of government for his city which will tend to elevate the moral character of the officials rather than lower it.

The appeal of Rev. Gage for a change in the city government, based as it is on moral lines as well as economic, is worthy of the earnest consideration of every voter in Washington.

It is one big reason for making a change. Perhaps it is the big reason after all.

Their Just Reward

According to the best information obtainable some men who enjoy securing large sums of money without contributing to the world their share of honest toil, are big losers because the threatened railroad strike failed to occur a few days ago.

The activities of those men, in buying up vast quantities of food stuffs and "cornering" it with the intention of waiting for a tie up of the common carriers of the country and the consequent scarcity of food stuffs at the great market centers and an advance in price has been responsible, very largely, for the tremendous rise in the price of the necessities of life.

So confident were those men that the strike would occur that they bought heavily, invested every dollar they possessed and all the money they could borrow—they played all their bets straight on the strike to win—and they lost.

As a consequence many of them have gone broke because they were compelled to dispose of their great quantities of food stuffs at reduced prices.

What would have happened to the consumers, the toilers of the land, had the strike occurred and the men who had cornered the food stuffs been able to dictate the prices of the necessities of life, it is better to imagine than to realize.

No sympathy is extended to the men who sought to profit by such conduct.

They lost and deserved to lose. Everybody is glad they met financial disaster. They got just what was coming to them.

ARABIA'S DIVERTED RIVER.

A Work That May Have Been Directed by Alexander the Great.

Arabia lies at the head of the Persian gulf, its western boundary being the Shat-el-Arab, the great river formed by the combined waters of the Tigris and Euphrates, the right bank of which is in Turkish Arabia.

Forty miles above where it flows into the Persian gulf the Shat-el-Arab is joined by the Karun, and the town of Mohammerah stands at the junction of the two rivers, the former a clear green stream, the latter thick and red.

In ancient times the Karun flowed into the gulf and part of the river still runs along the old channel, but the main stream has been diverted three miles above Mohammerah into an artificial channel known geographically as the Haffar canal.

It is impossible even to make a guess at the date of this wonderful work, not even a tradition remaining of the ruler whose farsightedness realized the enormous value and possibilities of the waterways.

Alexander the Great has been suggested, but apparently for no other reason than that he is a convenient and likely person to credit with any ambitious enterprise and that one of his many Alexandrias was built on the site of the present Mohammerah.—Wide World Magazine.

Force of a Flying Bird.

The marvelous force with which a bird flies was strikingly illustrated recently when a partridge crashed through a big window of a country estate. The window was glazed with plate glass a quarter of an inch thick. The bird, which weighed twenty ounces, was found dead in the living room eleven feet from the window. The impact of its body broke a hole in the heavy glass about three feet in diameter. The window is more than five feet square and close to the ground. It overlooks a large lawn, which at certain times in the day is very vividly reflected in the glass. It is thought that the bird was deceived by this reflection into thinking it was flying through an opening. Nearly all of the broken glass was thrown into the room.—Detroit Free Press.

REASONS WHY
CHARTER FORM IS THE BEST

Fred G. Carpenter, Former Washington Boy, Now Practicing Attorney at Toledo, Advances Some Excellent Arguments for the "New Way."

Mr. Fred G. Carpenter, son of Judge and Mrs. F. G. Carpenter, now practicing law in Toledo, Ohio, writing to the Herald expresses his interest in the movement for a Charter form of government for Washington.

Mr. Carpenter has submitted, for the consideration of Washington voters, a very clear expression of his views on the all important problem of government for Ohio cities which is presented for the consideration of the voters of this city.

Mr. Carpenter says:

"A question that no affronts every citizen in Washington is: Shall Washington adopt a Charter under the provision of the Home Rule amendment of the Ohio Constitution? The question can only be answered by the people. The mirror of civic pride reflects the will of the people. No form of Government can be a success without the aid of the people; but under certain forms of government perfection is more apt to be attained. A change in form alone is not a panacea for all municipal ills; there must accompany the new charter a change in the activities of the citizens. Success will only come thro meeting failures and shortcomings with renewed energy, in adjusting the difficulties in the best possible way and in working earnestly for perfection. Because it means hard work is no reason why the citizens should refuse to adopt a new charter.

Taking advantage of City Independence, casting aside control by the General Assembly, Washington can take strides for civic advancement that will place her in the front rank of progressive Ohio cities. Under a new charter only those interested in the welfare of Washington can dictate how it shall conduct its administrative affairs. Time alone can show the advantages of solving the local problems.

There can be no doubt that a change would be a great benefit. Then what form of government should Washington adopt? Again, it is up to the citizens, for the full object of a change is to place more power in the hands of the people.

The Commission form of Government in one of its conceptions can be beneficially adopted; the Commission-Manager Plan has met with great success in every city it has been tried; there is no doubt that it would meet the expectations and demands of Washington.

Washington is not in the same category as many other Ohio cities but it is better to secure an efficient city government than to wish we had taken the advantage of insuring efficiency by getting business methods in operating city affairs.

Every corporation that can put its seal upon its stock certificate with a "clear conscience", is based and managed upon scientific business principles. The men actively engaged in service are producers, they must show the directors and stockholders substantial results. The president and the general manager are responsible in carrying out the policies.

How is it with the Mayor and Council system? Of necessity each councilman must look strictly after the needs of his own ward and the mayor is tuning up the second term fiddle. Politics and inefficiency are the watchwords of this system.

Washington is a corporation, its property has a valuation of thousands of dollars. In whose hand do you want to place the chances for betterment, trained and efficient or untrained and inefficient? It is up to the people.

Is there any reason why Washington should not be conducting its municipal affairs in a business like manner? It is not always the fault of the men who are filling the places of trust that the affairs get in terrible condition, it is the system as it exists today.

Note for instance the difference in the management of a thriving corporation and the city. Responsibility—When any thing goes wrong in a corporation it does not take long to fix responsibility. Peruse upon some of your attempts to locate "The Man" you want when something is wrong in the city. This alone is well worth the change.

In removing political factions and making the plan non-partisan a union of the various organization is brought about and they all ask for civic betterment; relieving the city of factional government and paving the way for political independence.

How efficient is the city government today or five years ago? What principles govern the expenditures, the control of its servants, the letting of contracts and the checking of the services rendered the city. In other words the present system can not show 100 cents value for every dollar spent. The manager of a corporation can.

Efficiency, Responsibility, Political Integrity are the jewels of good government. These are established by the Commission Form of Government and any city will rapidly rise out of the mire by taking advantage of a business like administration.

FRED G. CARPENTER.

YOUNG THIEVES
GO TO LANCASTER

Mack Wiles and Robert Wiles, two of the three boys found guilty of breaking into the Washington Candy Company's store recently, have been tried in Juvenile Court and sent to the Lancaster Reform School and were taken to that prison Wednesday.

A Lindsay boy who was with the two Wiles boys when the theft occurred, was a few days too young to be sent to Lancaster, and thus escaped. However he is now old enough and should he get into further trouble, will be dealt with accordingly.

BAND CONCERTS
COME TO AN END

The last of a series of delightful band concerts given by the Washington Band, drew a large crowd to the court house lawn Tuesday evening and the big crowd, as usual, enjoyed the splendid music furnished by the best musical organization Washington has had in recent years.

In addition to the regular concert work of the band, Mr. Lee Rogers favored the crowd with a cornet solo, "Perfect Day," faultlessly rendered, and responded to an encore.

The band has, by its series of concerts, and other playing, won the united good will of citizens generally, and their work has resulted in much pleasure to all who have had the privilege of hearing them.

It is interesting to know that the band, encouraged by the support rendered this season has made plans for frequent rehearsals throughout the winter, and will be ready with a still better organization next year.

ASKS DISCHARGE OF INJUNCTION

A motion to discharge the injunction recently allowed by the court in the alimony action filed by Minnie Baker against Wm. Baker, was filed in common pleas court by defendant, Wednesday morning. Defendant is represented by John Logan.

Defendant, in the motion, admits striking plaintiff, regrets same, alleges plaintiff has comfortable place of abode and that the injunction ties up funds which he requires in conducting farming, and that he had no intention of disposing of or encumbering same.

TRAIN ROBBERY
CASE LAUNCHED

The trial of Jeff. Harrison, alleged leader of the gang of train robbers who held up and robbed B. & O. mail train No. 1, at Central Station, West Virginia, October 9, 1915, has opened at Martinsburg, W. Va. The case is being tried in Federal court.

Harrison is said to be chief of the band which obtained $102,000 in unsigned bank notes and other loot of considerable value. Fifty-three witnesses were subpoenaed.

It will be remembered that the hold up was staged by a number of men who uncoupled the main train and ran the mail coaches up the track and rifled them.

Harrison was arrested in San Antonio, Texas, after trying to pass one of the bank notes. $33,000 of the money was found under a concrete floor in his garage.

Eugene Diez and Henry Grady Webb also were arrested for the job, and jointly indicted with Harrison.

Diez was arrested in Colorado. Webb also was arrested in the west and confessed, implicating Harrison.

The crime was the greatest in the history of the U. S. Postal Department.

INJURED MAN IS SOMEWHAT BETTER

Operation Upon Wm. Waddell a Success and He is Expected to Recover From Grave Injuries Received While Feeding Clover Huller Tuesday Afternoon.

Mr. William Waddell, well known farmer of near Sabina, who was brought to the hospital in this city Tuesday afternoon, suffering from internal injuries caused by a pitchfork being hurled against him while he was pitching clover into a huller, withstood the operation very well, and has a good chance for recovery, although he is by no means out of danger.

The pitchfork was hurled with great violence and the handle struck Mr. Waddell in the abdomen causing a serious internal rupture, and by the time he reached the hospital the internal bleeding had reached a critical stage, so that he was operated upon without delay, the flow of blood stopped and in every way the operation is believed to have been a success.

The injured man is in the Fayette Hospital, had a restful night and Wednesday morning issued orders that the clover huller be started again, and the work continued without further interruption.

HAVE DIFFICULTY IN OBTAINING STONE

The county commissioners, it is announced, are having considerable difficulty at the present time in obtaining stone for the public highways, and while they have ordered about 125 car loads that has not been delivered, one or two cars each day is all that has been coming in, and a large number of men and teams who have been kept busy on the roads, have been idle during the several days no material could be obtained.

It has not been announced whether shortage of cars, increased demand for material, or what is the cause for the little amount of stone being received.

This week will wind up a large part of the road work, as corn cutting will open next week, and the farmers will devote themselves to harvesting the corn crop.

Mrs. Ada Jones pleasantly entertained the girls of her Sunday School Class of Grace Church, Tuesday afternoon, in honor of two of the girls who are moving away. Miss Elsie Foreman, who leaves shortly for the West, and Miss Lucy Garringer, who goes to Springfield.

It was quite an informal little affair, with a dainty luncheon served.

Mrs. Miller Mintern, of S. Main street, extended the hospitality of her home to the Charlotte Tuttle Bible Class, Tuesday night.

A large number thoroughly enjoyed the evening, with its social features and tempting luncheon. A profusion of early fall flowers prettily decked the rooms.

ASSURANCE SENT BY THE JAPS

China's Sovereignty Not Endangered by Demands.

GUTHRIE WIRES REPORT

Nothing in Tokyo Representations Infringing on American Interests by Violating the Open Door, the American Ambassador is Informed. Question Whether United States Will Accept Assurances.

Washington, Sept. 13.—The Japanese foreign minister at Tokyo officially informed American Ambassador Guthrie that the Japanese demands recently made on China in no way endangered the sovereignty of China nor the agreement with this government concerning the "open door" policy.

Ambassador Guthrie's report stated that he had been informed that although some of the demands were correctly outlined in press dispatches, others were entirely untrue. The demands in full, as reported to him, follow:

Japan was requesting in addition to proper apologies and monetary compensation, that Japanese officers should be reappointed as instructors in the cadet school (probably at Mukden) and suggesting that the Chinese government should ask for the appointment of Japanese advisers to be stationed with Chinese garrisons in south Manchuria and eastern Mongolia and that owing to extension of its extra territorial rights the Japanese government should be permitted to station Japanese policemen in towns where there are large Japanese settlements.

Whether the Washington government will accept these assurances as conclusive depends on the interpretation which Japan places on her demands as her negotiations with China proceed. Officials here are uncertain as to Japan's real intentions, though it was revealed that in an inquiry on the subject the Japanese foreign office was notified that the demands greatly disturbed the American government.

It is not the mere terms of the Japanese demands, however, which have been well established throughout, so much as their real purpose, that has caused anxiety here. If the recrudescence of banditry in conjunction with monarchist revolution has, as claimed, produced a condition of outlawry where Japanese lives are endangered, officials are said to be willing to admit that Japan is as much justified in having troops in those sections as the United States has in having troops in Mexico. If, on the other hand, it develops that Japan is magnifying a small local disturbance into an international implication to exact political concessions, the United States is expected to object, holding that the integrity of China is being invaded.

President Sams Addresses Ohio Bankers' Association.

Columbus, Sept. 13.—President O. N. Sams of the Ohio Bankers' association, in the course of his annual address to the bankers' convention here, reviewed the work of the organization for twenty-five years, emphasizing its part in many banking reforms. He urged young men to make a close study of banking in its larger sense, as upon them rests the future sense, as upon them rests the future try. When the European war is over, he said, there will be great problems of banking and finance to be considered and he urged that young men prepare themselves for the tasks which will be theirs before many years. President Sams made a plea that every banker in the state become identified with the Ohio association and help thereby to solve problems confronting the financial interests of Ohio.

Governor Willis said he welcomed the co-operation of the bankers in public matters. He said he had observed that the banker in the smaller community often is the real leader of thought there. He pointed out that bankers are doing much to help agriculture by promoting corn and pumpkin shows and in assisting in the corn boys trips. He praised the work of Harry T. Hall, state superintendent of banks.

Eight hundred bankers are attending the convention. Several New York bankers and Edward T. Hurley, chairman of the federal trade commission, also delivered addresses.

PROVES CLAIM

(By American Press)

Plattsburg, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Charles E. Hughes, in the last speech of his first presidential campaign trip, asserted here that the result in Maine had proved the Republicans are reunited. He declared the party would not "change its plans or aims." Persons in the audience took the reference to apply to criticisms of the methods pursued in conducting the present campaign and applauded the nominee vigorously.

"I come to you," said Mr. Hughes, "as the spokesman of a reunited Republican party. We have said it was reunited, we have devoutly hoped it is reunited. Now Maine proves that it is reunited. Whoever was skeptical about the theory must hide his cynicism now. We shall abandon no efforts. We shall not change our plans or aims, but we shall go forward with renewed confidence because the old state in the northeast corner has spoken in no uncertain voice."

RECORDS BROKEN

(By American Press)

Portland, Me., Sept. 13.—The largest vote in the history of Maine was cast at the state election. The total vote will approximate 150,000.

The receipt of the vote from the border and a few isolated towns increased the plurality of Carl E. Milliken, Republican, for governor, over Governor Oakley C. Curtis, Democrat, from the indicated figures of 13,000 to 13,800. Indicated pluralities for the other Republican candidates were confirmed by a revision of the vote. The Republicans will have solid delegations in both branches of congress and will easily control both houses of the legislature.

The country vote, as usual, controlled the election. The cities gave a total plurality of fifty-one for Governor Curtis, as against a total of 6,000 received by him two years ago.

HEARING "ON"

(By American Press)

Columbus, Sept. 13.—At the inquiry conducted by the state board of administration into charges of brutality against Warden Thomas of the penitentiary, Harris J. Morgan, Butler county convict, told stories of torture and implicated numerous guards. He specified what purported to be the hour, day, month and year of every incident he related. C. P. Steen, city editor of the Lima newspaper which some weeks ago published Morgan's charges, admitted on the stand the sensational stories based on Morgan's letters and hearsay information were published by him without investigation as to their truth or falsity.

BOOMING

Washington, Sept. 13.—According to estimates made by the census department, the population of the leading cities of Ohio in 1916 is as follows: Cleveland, 680,728; Cincinnati, 411,973; Columbus, 216,925; Toledo, 193,028; Dayton, 127,905; Youngstown, 109,932; Akron, 86,684; Canton, 61,532; Springfield, 51,846; Lima, 35,678.

The estimates were furnished the Ohio liquor licensing commission, which will use these figures in determining the number of saloon licenses for these cities for the coming year.

SUICIDE ANNOUNCED CAUSE OF DEATH

(By American Press)

Columbus, Sept. 13.—Professor Charles S. Prosser, fifty-six, head of the department of geology at the Ohio State university, committed suicide by drowning in the Olentangy river near the university railroad bridge. Ill health and worry over his wife's nervous conditions are ascribed as the cause of suicide. Professor Prosser's reputation as a geologist was international. His books are regarded as authorities on the subject.

THE NEW EIGHT-CYLINDER CADILLAC TYPE 55 IS HERE

In connection with the coming of The New Cadillac—GRASP THIS THOUGHT.

This is the third successive season and no radical changes have been made in the basic principles of design.

This Cadillac car has proven itself beyond the need of radical change.

But the Cadillac process of refinement is continuous.

The new Cadillac is a better, finer car than any that preceded it.

There is perfected development in scores of details.

The performance of 31,000 cars proves the underlying principles of Cadillac V-type 8-cylinder construction to be fundamentally sound.

The KIND of a motor now being built by the Cadillac Company, in the opinion of its experts, represents a higher degree of efficiency than any other in existence.

This is the joint judgment of 31,000 owners and the makers.

The new Cadillac is a beautiful car to look upon.

Its superior riding qualities are enhanced and intensified.

The driving ease is accentuated by a longer wheel base.

Cadillac power is so abundant that it is doubtful if a situation can arise that will challenge it.

It is fully to seek further. Here is the uttermost in a motor car.

15,000 LEAVING THE BORDER

Another Detachment of Guardsmen to Return Home.

Washington, Sept. 13.—The war department has completed plans for the return of a second increment of 15,000 national guard troops from the Mexican border to their home stations. Whether or not any Ohio troops will be included in this order could not be learned. The secretary of war has not yet decided when this second force to be returned will leave the border, but in all probability the order will go out within the next two weeks.

The 15,000 men who have just reached their home stations are now being mustered out of the federal service and restored to their status as state troops. The same course will be pursued with the second detachment as soon as it reaches home.

It is now pretty definitely established that the administration will try to get all the national guard troops away from the border before election day and stop the expense, which amounts to $15,000,000 a month. Whether this can be done is still dependent on the outcome of the negotiations now taking place at New London, Conn., between the American and Mexican commissioners.

New York, Sept. 13.—President Shonts of the Interborough Rapid Transit company announced that he would not accept a recommendation of Mayor Mitchell and the public service committee to call off the strike and arbitrate the differences between the railway companies and the labor union. An investigation, started by the coroner after an accident in the Bronx in which two persons were killed and many others injured, when a car got beyond control of the inexperienced motorman and crashed into an automobile, revealed that many strikebreakers had been employed previously as truckmen.

Junction City, Kan.—An albino blue jay, the first one ever seen here, was found recently in the Presbyterian churchyard by A. W. Davy. The blue jay was half grown and its feathers were perfectly white. Its unusual color had apparently not discredited the albino in the eyes of the parent birds, for it was fat and gave indications of having been well cared for.

SYNOPSIS

Pierpont Stafford, banker and railroad magnate, with his sixteen-year-old daughter, Gloria, is wintering at Palm Beach. Gloria is a vivacious but willful young lady who chafes under the restraining hand of a governess from whom she repeatedly escapes. Her childish capers cause young Doctor Royce to fall in love with her. She steals from her room at night and in an auto plunges into the surf where she leaves the car. Becoming lost in the everglades she falls into the hands of the Seminole Indians. She is rescued and returned to her father who had offered a reward for her return. Gloria falls in love with her rescuer, Freneau. Five years later she leaves school and meets Freneau at the theater; his attention having been occupied with her sister-in-law he has forgotten Gloria. Gloria feels that her one dream is shattered. Later Freneau persuades her to forgive him. Gloria's sister-in-law, Lois, becomes intensely jealous and Doctor Royce discovers in her an ally to assist in thwarting Freneau. Doctor Royce warns Freneau that there is another woman besides Gloria; Freneau goes sleighing with Gloria without her father's knowledge. It results in pneumonia for Gloria, whose family becomes incensed at Freneau when they learn the truth. Royce is summoned to alleviate Gloria's suffering. Freneau's finances being low he approaches Pierpont Stafford for a loan. Doctor Royce again warns Freneau of his conduct. But Lois, learning of Freneau's betrothal to Gloria, threatens him with dire punishment. Her husband, Gloria's brother David, becomes suspicious; he plans a trap for his wife.

Gloria had retired after Freneau left her, but lay tossing about on her pillows unable to sleep. The moon was

She Wanted That Picture.

The night nurse, sitting upright by her bed, was sleeping soundly. She had won Morpheus because she was spurning him instead of courting him. Gloria determined to try the same method herself.

Instead of rendering aid, the shadowy figure began to ransack Freneau's pockets. He found the envelope of letters and put them in his own pocket. Then, startled by the approach of a third man, he also vanished.

The third man came on openly. Gloria felt sure that she would either waken from her nightmare or that aid was at hand. She used all her will to control her reeling senses.

The newcomer did not even see Freneau till he stumbled over the prostrate form. He knelt down by it, seemed to be aghast at recognition. Then he, too, began to search through Freneau's pockets. Then Gloria screamed. Shriek after shriek burst through the silence of the Stafford home.

TRENCHES CAPTURED BY FRENCH

Ground Gained In Somme by Sudden Onslaught.

MANY PRISONERS SEIZED

New Attacks Delivered Unexpectedly on the Front From the Town of Combles to the River—Allies Make Additional Gains on the Macedonian Front—Germans Advancing in Eastern Roumania—War Review.

London, Sept. 13.—Paris announces the capture of a front line and other trenches by French forces operating north of the Somme river in France. Fifteen hundred prisoners were taken by the French.

The new attacks, coming after several days of comparative calm, were made on the front from the town of Combles to the river. So vicious was the thrust of the French that it required only half an hour for them to overcome the resistance of the Germans and make themselves masters of three and three-quarter miles of first line trenches. Later, east and southeast of Combles they seized additional trenches along the Bataune-Peronne road, which leads from Peronne northward through Bapaume and Arras to Bethune, placing a serious impediment in the way of the Germans for the movement of their transport from the north to Peronne and making the French position north of Peronne seemingly a menacing one.

All along the Macedonian front the heavy offensive of the entente allies continues. Bulgarian trenches on a front of two miles and to a depth of 800 yards are reported by Paris to have been captured by the French west of the Vardar river near Majdaga, which lies about four miles south of the town of Gjevleki. On the Struma front the British, aided by the French, have made additional gains east of the river in the Lake Takino region. The army of the Teutonic allies is declared to have suffered heavy casualties in the latter engagement.

Unofficial reports are to the effect that the Bulgarians have evacuated the forts at Kavala, on the Aegean sea, which they captured in August.

Berlin reports further progress for the German and Bulgarian forces under command of Field Marshal von Mackensen in the Dobudja region of eastern Roumania.

Attacks by the Russians in east Galicia and on the lower Stokhod river in Russia have been repulsed by the Austro-German forces, according to Berlin and Vienna. Petrograd reports that in the Carpathians the Russians have captured several additional strategic positions, but Vienna denies the assertion and declares that all attacks there were repulsed.

The usual bombardments and small skirmishes continue in the Austro-Italian theater. The Turks and Russians are still at grips in Asiatic Turkey, with both sides claiming successes.

STRONG ARM

(By American Press)

Washington, Sept. 13.—Brigadier General Liggett, commander of American military force in the Philippines, reported to the war department facts that show a clear violation of American neutrality when a British destroyer held up the American steamer Cebu off the Caraboa island. General Liggett reported that the Cebu was a mile and a half inside American territorial waters when she was stopped and boarded. The Cebu's captain was compelled to give Lieutenant Bailes, the British commander, the ship's manifest and passenger list. The official report was laid before Secretary of State Lansing by the war department.

BUT FEW SURFACE CARS WERE OPERATED TODAY, AND THE CONGESTION ON THE SUBWAY AND ELEVATED LINES WAS EXTREME.

(Associated Press Cable.)

LONDON—INSTEAD OF RESTING ON THE GROUND WON IN YESTERDAY'S GREAT ATTACKS NORTH OF THE SOMME, THE FRENCH CONTINUED THEIR THRUST LAST NIGHT, CAPTURING THE VILLAGE OF BOUCHAZESNES AND A WOODED AREA NEARBY.

The town lies east of the Bapaume-Peronne road, and its capture, with adjacent territory, apparently clinches French possession of this main highway to Peronne.

Combles is now cut off from the south and is in a dangerous salient, while General Foch is in a favorable position for a stroke from the north at Peronne, which appears seriously threatened by the new French advance, one of the most important made in any single operation since the Somme offensive began.

The British, who hold the lines northwest of Combles, are maintaining a firm grip on Ghinchy, but apparently have not attempted to gain further to the east, London reporting the situation unchanged today.

In Macedonia, the Entente offensive is developing along the western sector.

Athens announces a joint advance by French and Serbian troops, who have captured Sorovitz, near Florina; while Paris reports important progress, particularly considerable gains by the Serbs near Lake Orsova.

It also announces that German troops have been sent into Transylvania, where they are in contact with the advancing Roumanians.

The real purpose of the Carranza Government was two-fold, they said being both to raise internal revenue and foster development of Mexican industries on a reasonable scale.

Today the commissioners devoted their attention largely to a study of the effect on American owned properties in Mexico, particularly the mines of the present taxation decrees.

Athens, Greece, September 13.—

The belief is entertained in the Entente capitals that the retirement of the Zaimis ministry is preliminary to the entrance of Greece into the war with the Allies.

The precise causes which led to the resignation of the Ministry have not been disclosed, on account of an exceptionally rigid censorship.

It is believed in London that his resignation was due to the fact that he accepted the premiership on the understanding that he was to maintain neutrality, and, in view of the Bulgarian occupation of Greek territory had found this impossible.

DYE LOSES FIGHT FOR LICENSE

State Board Affirms County Board Decision—Principle Established.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, Ohio, September 13.—

The big fight made before the State Liquor License Commission by C. L. Dye, Marietta liquor dealer, to prevent the loss of his license, which was revoked by the Washington county board because he was twice convicted for violating federal liquor laws, proved unavailing, the state commission this afternoon affirming the action of the county board.

The decision of the state commission is of considerable importance, because it establishes the principle that a license may be taken away under the present Greenlund state liquor license law if the holder of such a license is twice convicted of violating any regulatory liquor law, state or federal.

Dye was committed to the Ross county jail, at Chillicothe, for his violations against the federal law, and Federal Judge Sater is now investigating to determine if reports that the sheriff allowed Dye to take rides and live in luxury away from the jail when he was supposed to be incarcerated are well founded.

SYMPATHY WITH ITS REAL AIM

President Wilson Addresses Border Commission.

RECEIVES MEXICAN ENVOYS

First Time During His Administration That the President Deals Personally With Representatives of the De Facto Government — Declares That the Regeneration of Mexico Must Come From Within.

New London, Conn., Sept. 13.—President Wilson exchanged calls with General Carranza's representatives, who with the American commissioners are seeking a permanent foundation of sympathy and understanding upon which may rest the future relations of Mexico and this country.

It was the first time during his administration that the president had dealt personally with a representative of the Mexican de facto government, and the significance of this fact was not lost upon either American or Mexican commissioners. For the first time, also, representatives of General Carranza learned from the man in whose hands perhaps lies the fate of their country, his statement of sympathy with the acts of the revolution which has torn Mexico.

The regeneration of the stricken nation must come from within, Mr. Wilson said, and, in answer for his colleagues and himself, Luis Cabrera, Carranza's minister of finance and chairman of the Mexican delegation, asserted that his country was struggling toward the light of freedom and democratic government.

Mr. Wilson laid great stress on the point as to the present conference upon which both Secretary Lansing and Secretary Lane centered their remarks at the first meeting of the commission in New York—the protection of American lives and property in Mexico. The president said he hoped the commission would be successful in finding a solution for its problems which would insure the security of Americans, not only along the border, but in any part of Mexico.

The meeting was arranged when the president arrived here, summoned to the bedside of his stricken relative, Mrs. Annie E. Howe. Accompanied by three American delegates the Mexican party was taken to the Mayflower, the president's yacht. In a navy launch that had been placed at the services of the joint body.

The president went directly to the subject of the Mexican revolution. He was, he said, more familiar than his hearers perhaps realized with the fundamental principles of the struggle for free government in Mexico. He assured them of his deep sympathy with those aims, adding that right-thinking men all over the world must sympathize with such high aspirations.

During the conversation Mr. Wilson indicated his comprehension of the great problems, political, economic, and social, which Mexico is facing. It was in this connection when he said that regeneration must come from within and that development must be parallel in all three lines.

Three Plans for European Peace Outlined By President to Dr. Jordan

1 CONGRESS OF EXECUTIVES OF NEUTRAL NATIONS

2 CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE TO MEET OTHER NEUTRAL CONGRESSES

3 THE UNITED STATES MIGHT ACT INDEPENDENTLY

DAVID STARR JORDAN and WILSON PEACE PLAN

That definite plans were outlined at recent conferences between President Wilson and peace advocates for bringing about peace in Europe is the declaration made by Chancellor David Starr Jordan of Stanford university, who just returned to the university in California from Washington. No action will be taken for several months, he says. According to Dr. Jordan, the conference agreed that any one of three plans would be feasible. A congress of executives of neutral nations might take the lead in bringing the belligerents of Europe together. Congress might appoint representatives to meet with representatives of other neutral congresses to act. The United States might act independently. Dr. Jordan said he was not at liberty to give out the details of the plans, as they would be handled by President Wilson himself.

FRANZ JOSEPH HAS BIRTHDAY

(Associated Press Cable.)

Vienna, Sept. 13.—Emperor Francis Joseph spent his third "war-birthday" — August 18 — in absolute retirement in his palace at Schoenbrunn, just outside Vienna. Only a special mass in the castle chapel, and a family dinner-party distinguished the day from any other in the monarch's ordinary life. For the rest it was spent as usual, in work from dawn until evening.

His eighty-sixth birthday found the Emperor in fairly good health, despite all rumors to the contrary. Statesmen who have seen him lately express astonishment at his mental and bodily vigor, but allowing for some courtier-like exaggeration it is generally believed that the sovereign's health is remarkably good considering his advanced age, and especially all the worries and burdens resulting from the war.

Rising at four the Emperor takes a very light breakfast of tea or chocolate and bread and butter and is at his desk by five. His barber comes three times a week though now he is enrolled in the Landsturm. It happens frequently that he cannot come at the proper time, having guard duty, but the Emperor has ordered that nothing is to interfere with his military duties. He arrives at the castle in uniform but puts on a dress coat before going to the Emperor.

At seven o'clock the first adjutant in waiting appears with reports and state papers, and any time after that hour audiences are granted to ministers and high military personages. Work goes on steadily all the day interrupted only by the briefest pauses for meals.

Naturally the customary rejoicings on the occasion of the Emperor's birthday throughout the country have been greatly curtailed by the war. In Vienna a high mass at the cathedral, attended by all prominent state and municipal personages, followed by a state dinner at the Cardinal Archbishop's and the firing of a salute at the arsenal are the chief items on the program. Usually great crowds flock to the Prater which was illuminated in the evening, but this year the population was in little mood for such festivities, and the crowds were far smaller than in other years.

The gathering of local news and the presentation of agricultural information of value to farmer readers will receive especial attention.

Mrs. Eliza Kennen, From 310 W. Ninth Avenue, Columbus, Ohio, Made a Little Journey to Room No. 32.

Mrs. Kennen, an elderly lady, for a long period of time has been wanting her teeth extracted. Her past experience along this line has always been very disagreeable and she said that every time she had a tooth extracted it would throw her into a nervous chill and would be confined to her bed for several days. This time there was no chill and after having six ulcerated roots and teeth out, she said "Why, Doctor, this is just simply grand."

You must remember that Doctor Blankner gets the very worst cases in the country. Some when they come to him have suffered for years and they tell the story how day after day they have suffered with neuralgia, with their ulcerated teeth as well as pyorrhea. Every sensible person knows that with the extractions of the teeth, that all the inflammation in the nerves and jaws can't be extracted but it requires the element of time to adjust same. Occasionally, there will be a dry abscess formation which requires treatment and is very painful, sometimes for several days. Happily, however, these cases are few. Dr. Blankner often takes out rotten jaw bone which if he did not do would entail an operation on the jaw and thus saves many people from serious trouble. The same germs that rot the teeth will rot the jaw bone. There are many dangers involved in decayed teeth and the only way to avoid them when your teeth are past filling is to have them extracted. Do not think when you have a decayed tooth and it does not hurt or ache that it is not doing you harm for it is. Every decayed tooth is a cess pool of filth, emitting a very disagreeable odor. The filth passes into your stomach with every meal, destroying digestion and poisoning the blood. In many instances cancer of the stomach is due to decayed teeth irritating the tongue. Diphtheria, tonsillitis, pneumonia, tuberculosis, etc., may come from decayed teeth.

If afflicted in any way, make a Little Journey to room No. 32, Arlington Hotel, until Saturday, September 16. Office hours 9 a. m. to 8 p. m.

"As Maine Goes."

The election in Maine is over, and both Republicans and Democrats are, in a measure, surprised at the results—the former agreeably and the latter the reverse.

The eyes of the people of the entire nation have been focused on Maine. The campaign was one of the most spectacular and one of the hardest fought in the history of the state. Political leaders of both parties put every ounce of strength they possessed into the campaign. Republican leaders spent days in speaking to the voters and members of the president's cabinet made sweeping tours in the interest of the Democratic candidates.

While the slogan "As Maine goes so goes the nation" has not always been proven true by the results of the general election in November, this year it was conceded by both political parties that the result of the battle in the Pine Tree State would be a particularly forceful indication as to which way the political currents were running.

So far as campaign managers and speakers were concerned local issues were of secondary importance in the campaign. National issues were forced to the front and discussed in all political meetings almost to the entire exclusion of local issues and candidates.

The Democratic managers insisted that the fact that President Wilson had kept the nation out of war was the paramount issue, while the Republicans forced the tariff issue to the front in their discussions, urging that Maine was, of all states, more particularly concerned with the tariff problem and that it was largely dependent upon a protective tariff for its prosperity.

Those who regard the Maine elections as a reliable barometer can see in it nothing save Republican victory in the nation next November.

The great bulk of the progressive vote on Monday registered in the Republican column and that after all is the most significant of all the indications which the results "way down in Maine" contain.

It is the first positive evidence to be furnished as to where the great part of the big Roosevelt vote four years ago is going to be cast in the November elections.

A Big Reason Why

In his talk last Sunday night at the Presbyterian church Rev. Gage advanced some entirely new, original and forceful arguments in his support of the charter form of government for cities.

An entirely new argument in favor of adopting the later and more efficient form of government was that the new form made bad men good, while the old inefficient plan tended to make good men bad.

How true that is, and what a powerful appeal to all good citizens is to be found in that one short statement.

The aim of all good people should be to make people better and the point Rev. Gage seeks to drive home, to every citizen when he makes that statement is simply this—from a moral (a religious, if you please) standpoint the citizen owes it to himself, to his neighbor, to urge the adoption of a form of government for his city which will tend to elevate the moral character of the officials rather than lower it.

The appeal of Rev. Gage for a change in the city government, based as it is on moral lines as well as economic, is worthy of the earnest consideration of every voter in Washington.

It is one big reason for making a change. Perhaps it is the big reason after all.

Their Just Reward

According to the best information obtainable some men who enjoy securing large sums of money without contributing to the world their share of honest toil, are big losers because the threatened railroad strike failed to occur a few days ago.

The activities of those men, in buying up vast quantities of food stuffs and "cornering" it with the intention of waiting for a tie up of the common carriers of the country and the consequent scarcity of food stuffs at the great market centers and an advance in price has been responsible, very largely, for the tremendous rise in the price of the necessities of life.

So confident were those men that the strike would occur that they bought heavily, invested every dollar they possessed and all the money they could borrow—they played all their bets straight on the strike to win—and they lost.

As a consequence many of them have gone broke because they were compelled to dispose of their great quantities of food stuffs at reduced prices.

What would have happened to the consumers, the toilers of the land, had the strike occurred and the men who had cornered the food stuffs been able to dictate the prices of the necessities of life, it is better to imagine than to realize.

No sympathy is extended to the men who sought to profit by such conduct.

They lost and deserved to lose. Everybody is glad they met financial disaster. They got just what was coming to them.

ARABIA'S DIVERTED RIVER.

A Work That May Have Been Directed by Alexander the Great.

Arabia lies at the head of the Persian gulf, its western boundary being the Shat-el-Arab, the great river formed by the combined waters of the Tigris and Euphrates, the right bank of which is in Turkish Arabia.

Forty miles above where it flows into the Persian gulf the Shat-el-Arab is joined by the Karun, and the town of Mohammerah stands at the junction of the two rivers, the former a clear green stream, the latter thick and red.

In ancient times the Karun flowed into the gulf and part of the river still runs along the old channel, but the main stream has been diverted three miles above Mohammerah into an artificial channel known geographically as the Haffar canal.

It is impossible even to make a guess at the date of this wonderful work, not even a tradition remaining of the ruler whose farsightedness realized the enormous value and possibilities of the waterways.

Alexander the Great has been suggested, but apparently for no other reason than that he is a convenient and likely person to credit with any ambitious enterprise and that one of his many Alexandrias was built on the site of the present Mohammerah.—Wide World Magazine.

Force of a Flying Bird.

The marvelous force with which a bird flies was strikingly illustrated recently when a partridge crashed through a big window of a country estate. The window was glazed with plate glass a quarter of an inch thick. The bird, which weighed twenty ounces, was found dead in the living room eleven feet from the window. The impact of its body broke a hole in the heavy glass about three feet in diameter. The window is more than five feet square and close to the ground. It overlooks a large lawn, which at certain times in the day is very vividly reflected in the glass. It is thought that the bird was deceived by this reflection into thinking it was flying through an opening. Nearly all of the broken glass was thrown into the room.—Detroit Free Press.

REASONS WHY CHARTER FORM IS THE BEST

Fred G. Carpenter, Former Washington Boy, Now Practicing Attorney at Toledo, Advances Some Excellent Arguments for the "New Way."

Mr. Fred G. Carpenter, son of Judge and Mrs. F. G. Carpenter, now practicing law in Toledo, Ohio, writing to the Herald expresses his interest in the movement for a Charter form of government for Washington.

Mr. Carpenter has submitted, for the consideration of Washington voters, a very clear expression of his views on the all important problem of government for Ohio cities which is presented for the consideration of the voters of this city.

Mr. Carpenter says: "A question that no affronts every citizen in Washington is: Shall Washington adopt a Charter under the provision of the Home Rule amendment of the Ohio Constitution? The question can only be answered by the people. The mirror of civic pride reflects the will of the people. No form of Government can be a success without the aid of the people; but under certain forms of government perfection is more apt to be attained. A change in form alone is not a panacea for all municipal ills; there must accompany the new charter a change in the activities of the citizens. Success will only come through meeting failures and shortcomings with renewed energy, in adjusting the difficulties in the best possible way and in working earnestly for perfection. Because it means hard work is no reason why the citizens should refuse to adopt a new charter.

Taking advantage of City Independence, casting aside control by the General Assembly, Washington can take strides for civic advancement that will place her in the front rank of progressive Ohio cities. Under a new charter only those interested in the welfare of Washington can dictate how it shall conduct its administrative affairs. Time alone can show the advantages of solving the local problems.

There can be no doubt that a change would be a great benefit. Then what form of government should Washington adopt? Again, it is up to the citizens, for the full object of a change is to place more power in the hands of the people.

The Commission form of Government in one of its conceptions can be beneficially adopted; the Commission-Manager Plan has met with great success in every city it has been tried; there is no doubt that it would meet the expectations and demands of Washington.

Washington is not in the same category as many other Ohio cities but it is better to secure an efficient city government than to wish we had taken the advantage of insuring efficiency by getting business methods in operating city affairs.

Every corporation that can put its seal upon its stock certificate with a "clear conscience", is based and managed upon scientific business principles. The men actively engaged in service are producers, they must show the directors and stockholders substantial results. The president and the general manager are responsible in carrying out the policies.

How is it with the Mayor and Council system? Of necessity each councilman must look strictly after the needs of his own ward and the mayor is tuning up the second term fiddle. Politics and inefficiency are the watchwords of this system.

Washington is a corporation, its property has a valuation of thousands of dollars. In whose hand do you want to place the chances for betterment, trained and efficient or untrained and inefficient? It is up to the people.

Is there any reason why Washington should not be conducting its municipal affairs in a business like manner? It is not always the fault of the men who are filling the places of trust that the affairs get in terrible condition, it is the system as it exists today.

Note for instance the difference in the management of a thriving corporation and the city. Responsibility—When any thing goes wrong in a corporation it does not take long to fix responsibility. Peruse upon some of your attempts to locate "The Man" you want when something is wrong in the city. This alone is well worth the change.

In removing political factions and making the plan non-partisan a union of the various organization is brought about and they all ask for civic betterment; relieving the city of factional government and paving the way for political independence.

How efficient is the city government today or five years ago? What principles govern the expenditures, the control of its servants, the letting of contracts and the checking of the services rendered the city. In other words the present system can not show 100 cents value for every dollar spent. The manager of a corporation can.

Efficiency, Responsibility, Political Integrity are the jewels of good government. These are established by the Commission Form of Government and any city will rapidly rise out of the mire by taking advantage of a business like administration.

FRED G. CARPENTER.

BAND CONCERTS COME TO AN END

The last of a series of delightful band concerts given by the Washington Band, drew a large crowd to the court house lawn Tuesday evening and the big crowd, as usual, enjoyed the splendid music furnished by the best musical organization Washington has had in recent years.

In addition to the regular concert work of the band, Mr. Lee Rogers favored the crowd with a cornet solo, "Perfect Day," faultlessly rendered, and responded to an encore.

The band has, by its series of concerts, and other playing, won the united good will of citizens generally, and their work has resulted in much pleasure to all who have had the privilege of hearing them.

It is interesting to know that the band, encouraged by the support rendered this season has made plans for frequent rehearsals throughout the winter, and will be ready with a still better organization next year.

TRAIN ROBBERY CASE LAUNCHED

The trial of Jeff. Harrison, alleged leader of the gang of train robbers who held up and robbed B. & O. mail train No. 1, at Central Station, West Virginia, October 9, 1915, has opened at Martinsburg, W. Va. The case is being tried in Federal court.

Harrison is said to be chief of the band which obtained $102,000 in unsigned bank notes and other loot of considerable value. Fifty-three witnesses were subpoenaed.

It will be remembered that the hold up was staged by a number of men who uncoupled the main train and ran the mail coaches up the track and rifled them.

Harrison was arrested in San Antonio, Texas, after trying to pass one of the bank notes. $33,000 of the money was found under a concrete floor in his garage.

Eugene Diez and Henry Grady Webb also were arrested for the job, and jointly indicted with Harrison.

Diez was arrested in Colorado. Webb also was arrested in the west and confessed, implicating Harrison.

The crime was the greatest in the history of the U. S. Postal Department.

INJURED MAN IS SOMEWHAT BETTER

Operation Upon Wm. Waddell a Success and He is Expected to Recover From Grave Injuries Received While Feeding Clover Huller Tuesday Afternoon.

Mr. William Waddell, well known farmer of near Sabina, who was brought to the hospital in this city Tuesday afternoon, suffering from internal injuries caused by a pitchfork being hurled against him while he was pitching clover into a huller, withstood the operation very well, and has a good chance for recovery, although he is by no means out of danger.

The pitchfork was hurled with great violence and the handle struck Mr. Waddell in the abdomen causing a serious internal rupture, and by the time he reached the hospital the internal bleeding had reached a critical stage, so that he was operated upon without delay, the flow of blood stopped and in every way the operation is believed to have been a success.

The injured man is in the Fayette Hospital, had a restful night and Wednesday morning issued orders that the clover huller be started again, and the work continued without further interruption.

HAVE DIFFICULTY IN OBTAINING STONE

The county commissioners, it is announced, are having considerable difficulty at the present time in obtaining stone for the public highways, and while they have ordered about 125 car loads that has not been delivered, one or two cars each day is all that has been coming in, and a large number of men and teams who have been kept busy on the roads, have been idle during the several days no material could be obtained.

It has not been announced whether shortage of cars, increased demand for material, or what is the cause for the little amount of stone being received.

This week will wind up a large part of the road work, as corn cutting will open next week, and the farmers will devote themselves to harvesting the corn crop.

The children had been in the Clinton County home but their parents making representations that they had a good home for them, obtained custody of the children, who are four and seven years of age.

ASSURANCE SENT BY THE JAPS

China's Sovereignty Not Endangered by Demands.

GUTHRIE WIRES REPORT

Nothing in Tokyo Representations Infringing on American Interests by Violating the Open Door, the American Ambassador Is Informed. Question Whether United States Will Accept Assurances.

Washington, Sept. 13.—The Japanese foreign minister at Tokyo officially informed American Ambassador Guthrie that the Japanese demands recently made on China in no way endangered the sovereignty of China nor the agreement with this government concerning the "open door" policy.

Ambassador Guthrie's report stated that he had been informed that although some of the demands were correctly outlined in press dispatches, others were entirely untrue. The demands in full, as reported to him, follow:

Japan was requesting in addition to proper apologies and monetary compensation, that Japanese officers should be reappointed as instructors in the cadet school (probably at Mukden) and suggesting that the Chinese government should ask for the appointment of Japanese advisers to be stationed with Chinese garrisons in south Manchuria and eastern Mongolia and that owing to extension of its extra territorial rights the Japanese government should be permitted to station Japanese policemen in towns where there are large Japanese settlements.

Whether the Washington government will accept these assurances as conclusive depends on the interpretation which Japan places on her demands as her negotiations with China proceed. Officials here are uncertain as to Japan's real intentions, though it was revealed that in an inquiry on the subject the Japanese foreign office was notified that the demands greatly disturbed the American government.

It is not the mere terms of the Japanese demands, however, which have been well established throughout, so much as their real purpose, that has caused anxiety here. If the recrudescence of banditry in conjunction with monarchist revolution has, as claimed, produced a condition of outlawry where Japanese lives are endangered, officials are said to be willing to admit that Japan is as much justified in having troops in those sections as the United States has in having troops in Mexico. If, on the other hand, it develops that Japan is magnifying a small local disturbance into an international implication to exact political concessions, the United States is expected to object, holding that the integrity of China is being invaded.

sense, as upon them rests the future sense, as upon them rests the future try. When the European war is over, he said, there will be great problems of banking and finance to be considered and he urged that young men prepare themselves for the tasks which will be theirs before many years. President Sams made a plea that every banker in the state become identified with the Ohio association and help thereby to solve problems confronting the financial interests of Ohio.

Governor Willis said he welcomed the co-operation of the bankers in public matters. He said he had observed that the banker in the smaller community often is the real leader of thought there. He pointed out that bankers are doing much to help agriculture by promoting corn and pumpkin shows and in assisting in the corn boys trips. He praised the work of Harry T. Hall, state superintendent of banks.

Eight hundred bankers are attending the convention. Several New York bankers and Edward T. Hurley, chairman of the federal trade commission, also delivered addresses.

PROVES CLAIM

(By American Press)

Plattsburg, N. Y., Sept. 13.—Charles E. Hughes, in the last speech of his first presidential campaign trip, asserted here that the result in Maine had proved the Republicans are reunited. He declared the party would not "change its plans or aims." Persons in the audience took the reference to apply to criticisms of the methods pursued in conducting the present campaign and applauded the nominee vigorously.

"I come to you," said Mr. Hughes, "as the spokesman of a reunited Republican party. We have said it was reunited, we have devoutly hoped it was reunited. Now Maine proves that it is reunited. Whoever was skeptical about that before must hide his cynicism now. We shall abandon no efforts. We shall not change our plans or aims, but we shall go forward with renewed confidence because the old state in the northeast corner has spoken in no uncertain voice."

RECORDS BROKEN

(By American Press)

Portland, Me., Sept. 13.—The largest vote in the history of Maine was cast at the state election. The total vote will approximate 150,000.

The receipt of the vote from the border and a few isolated towns increased the plurality of Carl E. Miliken, Republican, for governor, over Governor Oakley C. Curtis, Democrat, from the indicated figures of 13,000 to 13,800. Indicated pluralities for the other Republican candidates were confirmed by a revision of the vote. The Republicans will have solid delegations in both branches of congress and will easily control both houses of the legislature.

The country vote, as usual, controlled the election. The cities gave a total plurality of fifty-one for Governor Curtis, as against a total of 6,000 received by him two years ago.

HEARING "ON"

(By American Press)

Columbus, Sept. 13.—At the inquiry conducted by the state board of administration into charges of brutality against Warden Thomas of the penitentiary, Harris J. Morgan, Butler county convict, told stories of torture and implicated numerous guards. He specified what purported to be the hour, day, month and year of every incident he related. C. P. Steen, city editor of the Lima newspaper which some weeks ago published Morgan's charges, admitted on the stand the sensational stories based on Morgan's letters and hearsay information were published by him without investigation as to their truth or falsity.

BOOMING

(By American Press)

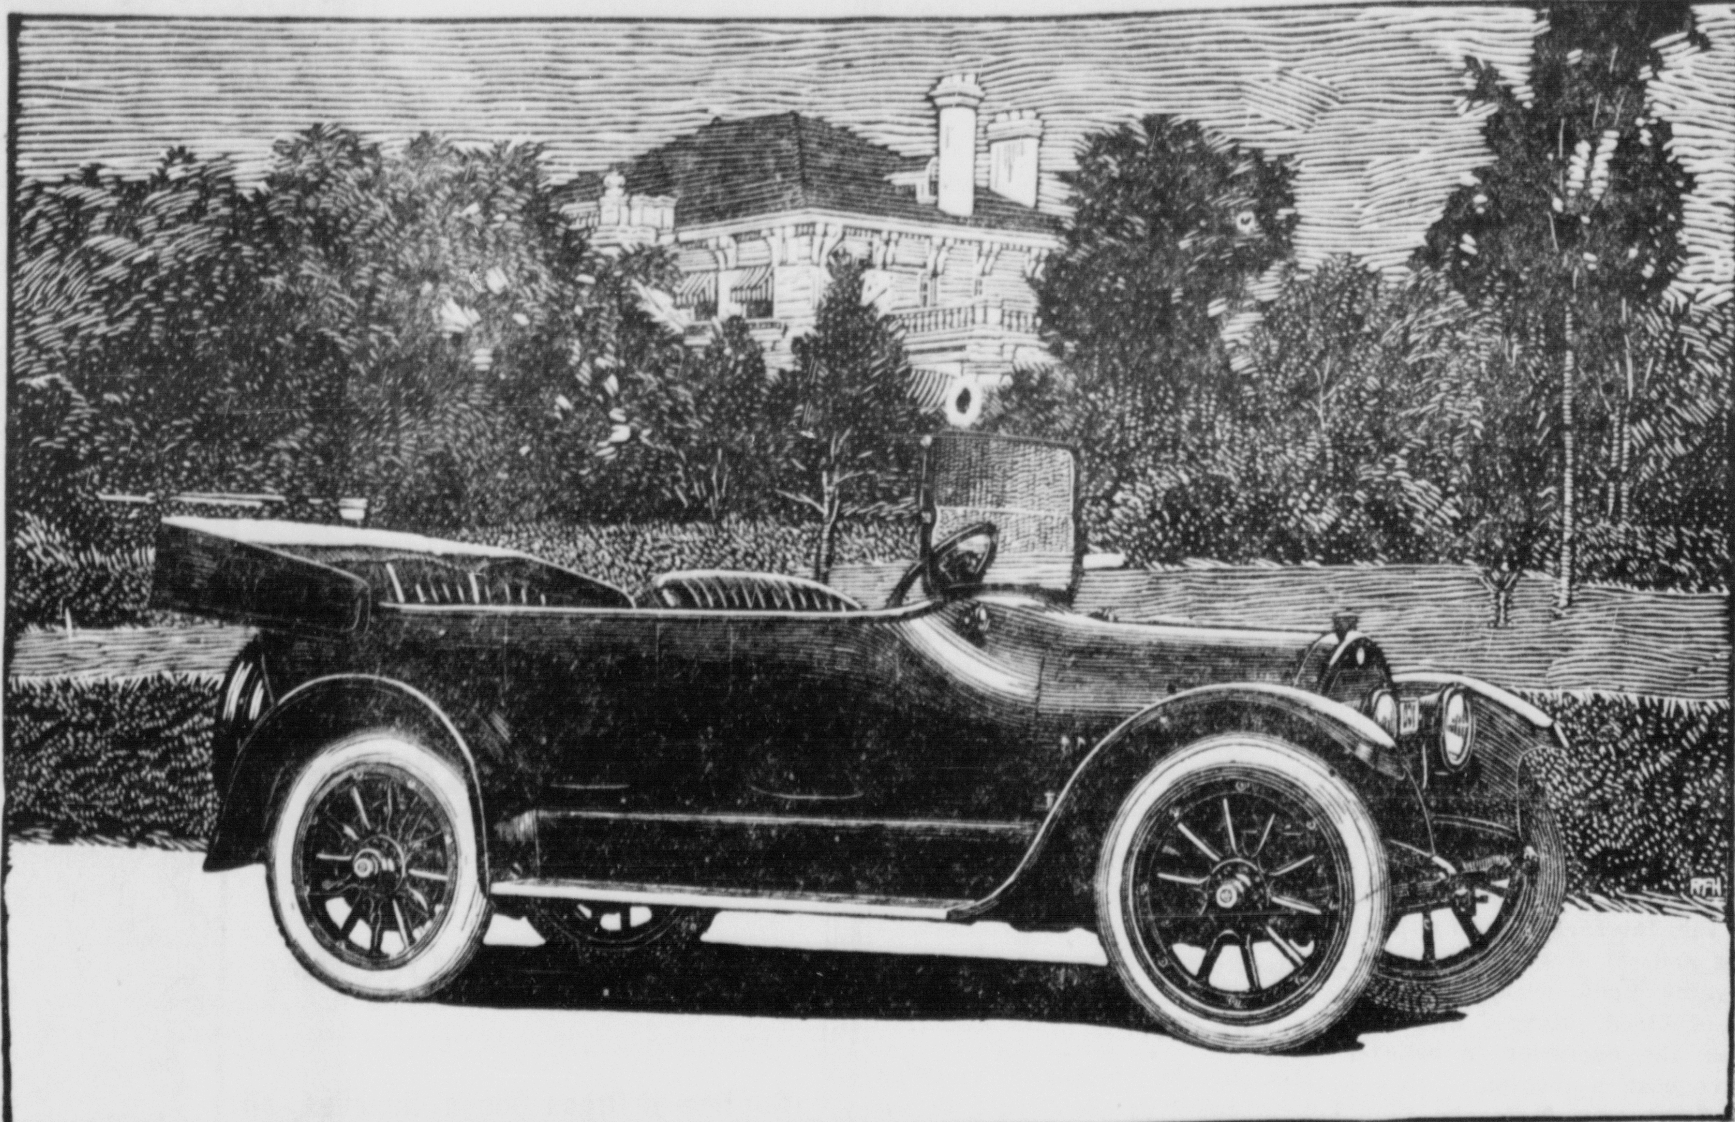

Washington, Sept. 13.—According to estimates made by the census department, the population of the leading cities of Ohio in 1916 is as follows: Cleveland, 680,728; Cincinnati, 411,973; Columbus, 216,925; Toledo, 193,028; Dayton, 127,905; Youngstown, 109,932; Akron, 86,684; Canton, 61,532; Springfield, 51,846; Lima, 35,678.

The estimates were furnished the Ohio liquor licensing commission, which will use these figures in determining the number of saloon licenses for these cities for the coming year.

SUICIDE ANNOUNCED CAUSE OF DEATH

(By American Press)

Columbus, Sept. 13.—Professor Charles S. Prosser, fifty-six, head of the department of geology at the Ohio State university, committed suicide by drowning in the Olentangy river near the university railroad bridge. Ill health and worry over his wife's nervous conditions are ascribed as the cause of suicide. Professor Prosser's reputation as a geologist was international. His books are regarded as authorities on the subject.

THE NEW EIGHT-CYLINDER CADILLAC TYPE 55 IS HERE

In connection with the coming of The New Cadillac—GRASP THIS THOUGHT.

This is the third successive season and no radical changes have been made in the basic principles of design.

This Cadillac car has proven itself beyond the need of radical change.

But the Cadillac process of refinement is continuous.

The new Cadillac is a better, finer car than any that preceded it.

There is perfected development in scores of details.

The performance of 31,000 cars proves the underlying principles of Cadillac V-type 8-cylinder construction to be fundamentally sound.

The KIND of a motor now being built by the Cadillac Company, in the opinion of its experts, represents a higher degree of efficiency than any other in existence.

This is the joint judgment of 31,000 owners and the makers.

The new Cadillac is a beautiful car to look upon.

Its superior riding qualities are enhanced and intensified.

The driving ease is accentuated by a longer wheel base.

Cadillac power is so abundant that it is doubtful if a situation can arise that will challenge it.

It is fully to seek further. Here is the uttermost in a motor car.

You are cordially invited to see this car at our sales rooms or call Bell Phone Main 137, Dayton, Ohio, and arrange for demonstration.

15,000 LEAVING THE BORDER

Another Detachment of Guardsmen to Return Home.

Washington, Sept. 13.—The war department has completed plans for the return of a second increment of 15,000 national guard troops from the Mexican border to their home stations. Whether or not any Ohio troops will be included in this order could not be learned. The secretary of war has not yet decided when this second force to be returned will leave the border, but in all probability the order will go out within the next two weeks.

The 15,000 men who have just reached their home stations are now being mustered out of the federal service and restored to their status as state troops. The same course will be pursued with the second detachment as soon as it reaches home.

It is now pretty definitely established that the administration will try to get all the national guard troops away from the border before election day and stop the expense, which amounts to $15,000,000 a month. Whether this can be done is still dependent on the outcome of the negotiations now taking place at New London, Conn., between the American and Mexican commissioners.

ARBITRATION IS REJECTED

(By American Press)

New York, Sept. 13.—President Shonts of the Interborough Rapid Transit company announced that he would not accept a recommendation of Mayor Mitchell and the public service committee to call off the strike and arbitrate the differences between the railway companies and the labor union. An investigation, started by the coroner after an accident in the Bronx in which two persons were killed and many others injured, when a car got beyond control of the inexperienced motorman and crashed into an automobile, revealed that many strikebreakers had been employed previously as truckmen.

THE UNION MEN HAVE EXPRESSED THEMSELVES AS WILLING TO ARBITRATE.

THE TWO COMPANIES DECLINED TO HOLD FURTHER CONFERENCES WITH REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNION AND ANNOUNCED THAT IT IS THEIR INTENTION TO CONTINUE TO OPERATE ON THE PRESENT BASIS.

BUT FEW SURFACE CARS WERE OPERATED TODAY, AND THE CONGESTION ON THE SUBWAY AND ELEVATED LINES WAS EXTREME.

MORE THAN A NORMAL NUMBER OF CARS ARE BEING OPERATED ON THESE LINES, OFFICIALS SAY, BUT THE TRAFFIC FORCED UPON THEM BY THE VIRTUAL SUSPENSION OF THE SURFACE LINES HAS PLACED A BURDEN ON THEM THAT THEY ARE HARDLY ABLE TO MEET.

THERE WAS LITTLE OR NO VIOLENCE TODAY LARGELY DUE TO THE FACT THAT POLICE PROTECTION HAD BEEN FURTHER EXTENDED.
